

BEFORE YOU GO ABROAD TO CERN

This form is also available on the LNS website at <http://web.mit.edu/lns/services/abroad-info.html> and Physics Department at <http://web.mit.edu/physics/policies/index.html>.

Please notify by email Cathy Modica (cmodica@mit.edu) in Physics Education and Elsy Luc (elsye@mit.edu) in LNS Headquarters as soon as you know that you will be going abroad.

IF YOU HAVE AN EMERGENCY WHILE ABROAD

INTERNATIONAL SOS (ISOS):

Call collect from anywhere in the world
(+1 215 942 8226 / MIT ID #: 11BSGC000066)

MIT has contracted with the travel assistance company, International SOS \(ISOS\), to provide emergency medical, security evacuation and other support services to faculty, staff, and students who are traveling abroad on MIT business. International SOS has 24-hour alarm centers, international clinics, and remote-site medical facilities covering five continents. Call collect any time (+1 215 942 8226 MIT ID #11BSGC000066). International calling codes for the United States vary please check this website for the correct code.

You are strongly advised to visit the MIT's International SOS Program Portal. This custom-designed site has a wealth of resources providing country-specific medical and security travel advice as well as a list of all ISOS benefits. You can sign up for email alerts, register your trip, and print a copy of the ISOS Membership card. We also encourage you to download the ISOS App onto your mobile device prior to your travel.

During your time abroad, the MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan will cover your care if you have a medical emergency or need urgent medical care anywhere in the world. If you receive emergency or urgent care from a provider or facility that participates with Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS), the provider or facility will simply bill Blue Cross for your treatment.

You may receive non-routine, non-urgent care when you are out of the area, including office visits to healthcare providers for illnesses or injuries, maternity care, mental health and substance abuse services, diagnostic tests, and physical therapy. Your out-of-pocket costs will always be lower if you receive these services from a Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS)-participating provider (Preferred Provider).

For Outpatient services, you would simply choose Outpatient from the "Select a Provider Type" and follow steps as before.

HEALTH CARE AND HEALTH INSURANCE

- MIT Student Medical Plan: included with tuition, provides students with access to most services at MIT Medical at no additional charge.
- MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan: provides further coverage, including prescriptions, off-campus specialty care, and hospitalization. For coverage beyond the MIT Student Medical Plan, nearly 70 percent of MIT students choose the MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan. Students registered for 27 units or more per term are automatically enrolled in, and billed for, the MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan. If you're covered by the MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan, you can use those benefits anywhere in the world.

Medical Emergencies

The MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan covers your care if you have a medical emergency or need urgent medical care anywhere in the world. If you receive emergency or urgent care from a provider or facility that participates with Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS), the provider or facility will simply bill Blue Cross for your treatment. However, if you receive care from a non-participating provider, you may have to pay for your care up front and file a claim for reimbursement.

Mental Health Care

When you see a clinician outside MIT Medical, those services are covered by the supplemental insurance plan—either the MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan or your other comprehensive plan.

- If you are covered by the MIT Student Extended Plan, and you see a mental health clinician who participates in the Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS) PPO, your first 12 visits in a calendar year are covered in full (100%). After that, you will have a $25 copay for each visit.
- If you are covered by the MIT Student Extended Plan, and you see a mental health clinician who does NOT participate in the Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS) PPO, your first 12 visits in a calendar year are covered at 100 percent of the BCBS allowed amount. After that, your insurance will cover 80 percent of the allowed amount, and you will pay the other 20 percent. For all of your visits, your clinician may bill you for the difference between the BCBS allowed amount and his or her charges. This is something you should discuss with your clinician ahead of time.

- If you are covered by your parents' insurance or another insurance plan, that plan's rules will apply. Most plans specify the number of visits per year that are fully covered or that require a small copayment. For many plans, coverage may apply only to a limited set of providers.

Other Out-of-Area Care

The MIT Student Extended Insurance Plan does not cover routine care outside of MIT Medical. “Routine care” would include such things as regular physical or gynecological exams, allergy testing, and most immunizations, including flu shots and travel vaccines.

However, you may receive non-routine, non-urgent care when you are out of the area, including office visits to healthcare providers for illnesses or injuries, maternity care, mental health and substance abuse services, diagnostic tests, and physical therapy. Your out-of-pocket costs will always be lower if you receive these services from a Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS)-participating provider.

Finding Blue Cross Blue Shield (BCBS) providers

- To find a BCBS-participating provider outside of the U.S., go to BlueCard Worldwide, and log in by entering the first three letters of the identification code on your insurance card
- Inside the US, find a provider at <http://provider.bcbs.com>
